The supremacy of the American world and the birth of Global rational political and economic order, is the handiwork of the 21st century, and is now well under way: Globalism is therefore world civilisation, the ultimate phase of which is therefore Americanism.

The mortal enemies of the American world do not accept this verdict of universal history: Even today they fight tooth-and-nail against the floodtide of American political and economic rationality in the world. The mortal enemies of Americanism are therefore the destroyers of the developmental unification and coaxial integration of the American world: “The Kantian philosophy thus serves as a cushion for intellectual indolence which soothes itself with the conviction that everything is already proved and settled.”<sup>2</sup>

We know the results of 20th century political and economic irrationalism in the disintegration of modernity and its inferior ruling classes: “Kant’s philosophy is a high one ... the march of God in the world, that is what the

In closing he recalled the legend that Plato revised the Republic seven times, and remarked that, despite this illustrious example, ‘the writer must content himself with what he has been allowed to achieve under the pressure of circumstances, the unavoidable waste caused by the extent and many-sidedness of the interests of the time, and the haunting doubt whether, amid the loud clamor of the day and the deafening babble of opinion ... there is left any room for sympathy with the passionless stillness of a science of pure thought.’ Seven days later he died of cholera, and was buried, as he had wished, between Fichte and Solgar.” Robert Maynard Hutchins, 1952.

Modern irrationalism, in order to validate pseudo-Hegelianism and anti-Hegelianism, squares the Lecture Notes and the great works published by Hegel in his lifetime.<sup>4</sup> Pseudo-Hegelianism and anti-Hegelianism thus squares both Kant and Hegel in order to prove the speculative logical and dialectical system of the genuine Hegel’s philosophical science of Absolute Idealism is flawed.<sup>5</sup> Irrationalism thus perverts the history of modern philosophy and modern Europe, especially that of the

<sup>4</sup> “The Meiner Verlag series of Hegel Vorlesungen, commencing in 1983, includes volumes that remedy drawbacks of the Werke volumes on these lectures-only topics; they distinguish the lecture series on the same topics in different years, so that there is now a more faithful representation available of what Hegel himself actually said in a given series, and how his thought, albeit not finalized, had developed or changed over time.” Robert F. early 20th century: Pseudo-Hegelianism and anti-Hegelianism is therefore the political and economic mask of modern European Raison d'État.<sup>6</sup> One drawback will never be remedied in Hegel philology: The Lecture Notes are not authoritative and are therefore useless in the exact determination of the ultimate worth of genuine Hegelianism. The ship of modernity is sinking and the irrationalists are going down ...

In the 20th century upwards of 500 million human beings were slaughtered in the contagion of modern political and economic satanism, more than in all the periods of history combined: Many hundreds of millions more were utterly ruined and destroyed by the most barbaric slavery ever recorded in the world. This is the ultimate verdict of exact historiography and history.<sup>7</sup> From whence comes the disease of modern unreason?

the German thunderbolt has fallen. At this commotion the eagles will drop dead from the skies and the lions in the farthest wastes of Africa will bite their tails and creep into their royal lairs. There will be played in Germany a drama compared to which the French Revolution will seem but an innocent idyll. At present, it is true, everything is tolerably quiet; and though here and there some few men create a little stir, do not imagine these are to be the real actors in the piece. They are only little curs chasing one another round the empty arena, barking and snapping at one another, till the appointed hour when the troop of gladiators appear to fight for life and death. And the hour will come. As on the steps of an empty amphitheatre, the nations will group themselves around Germany to witness the terrible combat.” Heinrich Heine, 1833-1834.

nature changes, society changes, habits and customs change, conceptions of justice change, truth itself changes ... our conceptions, our ‘self,’ exist only in so far as external conditions exist that give rise to impressions in our ‘self.’”<sup>10</sup> Leibnitz, Hume, and Kant as well as their schools are guilty of the selfsame sophistry: “[Hegel] was great, on the one hand by his metaphysical results, on the other by his logical method; on the one hand as the crown of dogmatic philosophy, on the other as the founder of the dialectic, with its then revolutionary doctrine of historical development. Both these aspects of Hegel’s work revolutionised thought ... the practical tendency of his metaphysics was, and is, to glorify existing institutions, to see in Church and State the objective embodiment of the Absolute Idea, his dialectic method tended to exhibit no proposition as unqualified truth, no state of things as final perfection ... The validity of this view we need not here examine; it is sufficient to point out that Hegel, in his ‘Philosophy of History,’ endeavoured to exhibit the actual course of the world as

following the same necessary chain of development which, as it exists in thought, forms the subject of his logic ... the development of the world therefore proceeds by action and reaction, or, in technical language, by thesis and antithesis, and these become reconciled in a higher unity, the synthesis of both ... we might live to see another French Revolution, perhaps even more glorious than the first, leaving Social Democracy to try one of the greatest and most crucial experiments in political history.”<sup>11</sup>

We might live to see another French Revolution, perhaps even more glorious than the first: “To Hegel, the life process of the human brain is the demiurgos of the real world, and the real world is only the external, phenomenal form of ‘the Idea’ ... it [the Hegelian Dialectic] includes in its comprehension and affirmative recognition of the existing state of things, at the same time also, the recognition of the negation of that state, of its inevitable breaking up; because it [the Hegelian Dialectic] regards every historically-developed social form as in fluid movement, and therefore takes into account its transient nature not less than its momentary existence; because it [the Hegelian Dialectic] lets nothing impose upon it, and is in its essence critical and revolutionary.”<sup>12</sup>

The Hegelian Dialectic is in its essence critical and revolutionary? “The philosophy of Hegel is the algebra of revolution, it emancipates man to an extraordinary degree and leaves not a stone standing of the Christian world, of the world of outlived tradition.”<sup>13</sup> The two-headed beast of American irrationalism, the satanic creature of Chomskyism and Rortyism, leaves a path of intellectual destruction in its wake as it crawls on its crocodile-like paws, Russell, Wittgenstein, and Carnap on the one side, with Gödel, Tarski, and Popper on the other, while its filth encrusted Quinean & Kripkean tail slithers along behind: “When I hear the name ‘Hitler,’ I do feel it’s sort of analytic that the man was evil. But really, probably not. Hitler might have spent all his days in quiet in Linz ... I say that a designator is rigid, and designates the same thing in all possible worlds.”<sup>14</sup> Certainly, it is not the case the realm of ultimate logical and linguistic reality is unintelligible and that something unknowable exists: “The ultimate ground of logic is the realm of truth without veil, the system of pure reason and world of pure thought.”<sup>15</sup>

Destroyer of language and logic, grandiose corrupter of the American Spirit, the political and economic diabolism of Chomskyism and Rortyism is thus forever banned from the Sacred Halls of Americanism:

“Thou Shall Not Pass Here,” is inscribed upon the uppermost chambers of American Raison d’État. Certainly, it is not the case the realm of ultimate political and economic reality is unintelligible and that something unknowable exists. All decline and decay in American civilisation is therefore irrationalism: “Catholicism is the oldest and greatest totalitarian movement in history,” babbles the American irrationalist Sidney Hook, “... other totalitarian movements have borrowed from it.”<sup>16</sup> All that is mortally corrupt in America therefore bears the rotten hallmark of modern irrationalism: “If they do it it’s terrorism, if we do it it’s counter-terrorism. That’s an historical universal: Go back to Nazi propaganda the most extreme mass murders ever. If you look at Nazi propaganda, it’s exactly what they said: They said they are defending the populations and the legitimate governments of Europe like Vichy from the terrorist partisans who are directed from London, that’s the basic propaganda line ... We did it therefore it's a just cause: You can read that in the Nazi archives too.”<sup>17</sup>

Long ago, therefore, the Idealistic Spirit of a youthful and vibrant America, in the firmament of great civilisations, was utterly debased by the sophistry of American philosophical irrationalism: It is the selfsame corruption that destroyed Old Europe in a firestorm of unreason, in the so-called modern democracies of liberalism, republicanism, nationalism, socialism and communism,—in the power of the people and the tyranny of the masses, in the contagion of the political and economic satanism of the 20th century.

The New World is the greatest civilisation in history because American Idealism is the Spirit of Americanism: American Idealism is the philosophy of Western civilisation in the present age, the Spirit of rational political and economic order in the world. The Spiritual development of American civilisation is the political and economic progress of humanity in the world, the result of the systematic and ruthless destruction of barbarism:

This is also the ultimate verdict of the exact historiography and history of Westernism in the 20th century. Certainly, it is not the case the realm of ultimate reality is unintelligible and that something unknowable exists: “What is rational is actual and what is actual is rational.”<sup>18</sup>

The disintegration of modern European civilisation in a flood tide of irrationalism, culminating in the collapse of Old Europe and the political and economic satanism of the 20th century, has absolutely nothing to do with the true and real spirit of science and technology in the world of today. It is rather the sophistry of the modern irrationalists: Locke, Leibnitz, Hume and Kant.<sup>19</sup> From <sup>19</sup> See also: “Culture and cultural identities, which at the broadest level are civilization identities, are shaping the patterns of cohesion, disintegration, and conflict in the post-Cold War world ... Intellectual and scientific advance, Thomas Kuhn showed in his classic The Structure of Scientific Revolutions, consists of the displacement of one paradigm, which has become increasingly incapable of explaining new or newly discovered facts, by a new paradigm, which does account for those facts in a more satisfactory fashion.” Samuel P. Huntington, The Clash of Civilizations and the Remaking of World Order, New York, 20-30.

The clash between East versus West unleashed the plague of irrationalism and the spiritual degeneration of modern Europe in the warfare of civilisation versus barbarism, which is therefore also the titanic struggle between reason and unreason: “Their deeds and destinies in their reciprocal relations to one another are the dialectic of the finitude of these minds, and out of it arises the universal mind, the mind of the world, free from all restriction, producing itself as that which exercises its right—and its right is the highest right of all—over these finite minds in the ‘history of the world which is the world’s court of judgement.’”<sup>20</sup>

In the Kingdom of Desmarais, all modern Canadian political and economic distinctions between liberalism, conservatism and socialism are become merely relative, and therefore their conception is become outdated in the rational development of the Absolute in world history, and therefore the old political and economic conception of Canada is undone and yet also overcome, in the period of the Quebec Regime in Ottawa, 1968-2006.<sup>21</sup> Ottawa is now the first sphere of Americanism. The Quebec Regime in Ottawa therefore signalises the end of modern European Raison d'État in Canada,—in the world historical sublation of Global civilisation. The selfsame political and economic rationality of Americanism is also evidenced in every other region of the 20th century, in the rise of the American world: In the Kingdom of Desmarais, the old conception of Canada is therefore undone, but within the world historical realm of Globalism, is yet also overcome ...

The aggrandisement of the Western Spirit in the Global rational political and economic order of American civilisation and the abolition of barbarism in the world is therefore the true and real spiritual power of science, philosophy and history as well as religion, art and literature.

<sup>21</sup> See: “[Mulroney] said labor must play ‘a full partnership role’ with business and government in deciding the country’s future.” The Montreal Gazette, 15 May 1986, A9.

The rational distinction between Americanism and anti-Americanism in the world of today is therefore the result of the struggle between superior and inferior ruling classes in the political and economic arena of 20th century world history: The separation of the wheat from the chaff is therefore the work of the greatest American Idealists, Wilson, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, Ford, Carter, Reagan, Bush the Elder, Clinton, Bush the Younger, Obama, to name but a few...

Americanism is therefore the spiritual journey of humanity in the world historical realm of rational political and economic order: Globalism is thus the end of world history and the birth of Cosmism. This is the ultimate secret of Americanism in the world of today.
